

What others say

“Tebay is a palace among motorway service stations.” The Sunday Telegraph Magazine

“Tebay is a joy with its farm shops, rings of Cumberland sausage, home-made fairy cakes and a very good Rogan Josh.” The Sunday Times Magazine

“Britain’s finest roadside dining experience.” The Guardian G2 supplement.

“Better stocked than most city centre delicatessens.” The Guardian – The guide

“It is the quality of the food on sale that puts it above every other service station in the land and most delis and specialist food shops too.” Mike Gerrard The Sunday Times

“Right in the middle of Britain’s motorway system about 90 minutes north of Manchester, there is an oasis of good taste that is so far above the average motorway stop, it compares favourably with Harrods’ Food Hall.” Toronto Star

“Not a case of motorway madness but one of the finest food shops you will find in the country, let alone in a motorway services.” Review on sausagelinks.co.uk/

“This simple idea, the result of a partnership between a local farm and the motorway services, is a culinary gem.” The Independent – The 50 Best Food Shops.

“I went to forage in the farm shop among the fresh olives, Cumberland ham, Islay smoked venison, Westmorland pie, achiltibuie kippers and hand –cured bacon. None of this could be bettered at Fortnum’s.” Sunday Telegraph

“You lead the way in everything you do, food and service is excellent. Think it’s fantastic that everything is locally sourced. The number 1 services in the UK” Mr Chris Freeman, Leeds 18th March 2008

This is a revelation! Why can’t they all be like this? Then it wouldn’t be necessary to waste money on sub standard overpriced food and feel guilty watching the appalling expressions of tourists from France, Italy and Spain” Jonathon Elphick, London 26 April 2008

“They sell sausages to die for – well, not to die for because I want to continue living to eat them! I am sure there are other excellent lamb sausages but yours, eaten after a long hard slog back down the M6 with some creamy pesto flavoured mashed potatoes and a glass of Merlot were wonderful.” S Camberley, Surrey

“I’ve even changed my driving patterns and swapped the A1 for the M6 so that I can call at Tebay, the finest service station in England.” Clarissa Dickson Wright

“Brilliant, I’d like to be locked in with a knife and fork.” John Howat, Rawtenstall, Lancashire, 6th February 2007

“An outstanding enterprise run lovingly by people who care.” Konrad Heene 23 May 2005

“Really great services – so good I stopped four days later. Love the Beef Growlers and the scenery” S Frost, Wiltshire, 24 September 2005